OUR ROLE IN PUBLIC HEALTH

What we champion every day to keep communities healthy:

We work with our staff, clients, partners, and populations to help ensure that people have a healthy place to live, work and play. We offer services and programs for health promotion, prevention, and protection.

What we would like to see for the future of public health:

The public better understands the important role public health plays in our lives and that they adopt the old adage: An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.
